

IDN T71 Strengthening the Capacity of Anti-Corruption Institutions in Indonesia

Project Duration: November 2009-November 2012

Project Budget: US$3,045,350

The project objective is to effectively prevent, investigate and prosecute corrupt practices in Indonesia to recover illegally acquired assets and combat money laundering. This will be supported through building the capacity of five key Indonesian anti-corruption institutions and support for civil society

Key Outcomes

- Capacity of 5 anti-corruption institutions - Corruption Eradication Commission, Attorney General's Office, Supreme Court, Indonesian National Police, Financial Transaction Reports and Analysis Centre - to prevent, investigate and prosecute corruption cases strengthened through specialized training courses and other capacity building activities
- Civil society activism in anti-corruption strengthened through a small grants program
- Public awareness improved through anti-corruption campaign

Partners: Corruption Eradication Commission (KPK), Attorney General's Office, Indonesian National Police, Supreme Court, Financial Transaction Reports & Analysis Centre (PPATK), civil society organizations

Implementing Partner:

Funded by Norway

